

Social Science

The Emerald Handbook of Research Management and Administration Around the World

Editor: Simon Kerridge, Susi Poli, Mariko Yang-Yoshihara

Publisher: Emerald Publishing

Overview: The most comprehensive book about practitioners working in research management and administration, with insights from around the globe and across disciplines to provide a comprehensive account of RMAs as a profession.

Acc. No: 102336

Call No: 001.4068 EME-E

The Philosophy of Information

Author: Luciano Floridi

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Luciano Floridi establishes the definitive foundations for the Philosophy of Information (PI), a field dedicated to investigating the conceptual nature of data and applying computational methodologies to classical problems. By systematically addressing the dynamics, ethics, and semantics of information, the book redefines the philosophical landscape for the digital age.

Acc. No: 102341

Call No: 020.1 FLO-P

Bayesian persuasion

Author: Gentzkow Matthew

Publisher: Princeton University Press

Overview: This definitive collection by Matthew Gentzkow and Emir Kamenica shifts information economics from what agents know to how information environments are optimized. By exploring Bayesian Persuasion, the authors detail how senders can strategically design information to influence the decisions of "receivers" across markets, politics, and social sciences.

Acc. No: 102365

Call No: 153.852 GEN-B

Anger and Forgiveness: Resentment, Generosity, Justice

Author: Martha C. Nussbaum

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Martha challenges the modern glorification of anger, arguing that it is a normatively pernicious emotion rooted in a desire for status and retribution. Instead of the transactional nature of traditional forgiveness, Nussbaum advocates for a Transition toward a spirit of generosity and impartial, welfare-oriented justice. Read more.

Acc. No: 102502

Call No: 179.9 NUS-A

Trophy Hunting

Author: Nikolaj Bichel and Adam Hart

Publisher: Springer Publication

Overview: Bichel and Hart present the first interdisciplinary study of trophy hunting, dissecting the psychological motivations of hunters and the practicalities of wildlife management. By navigating the friction between animal rights and conservation ethics, the text explores how social media and anthropomorphism have polarized the global discourse on fair chase.

Acc. No: 102377

Call No: 179.3 BIC-T

Visayatavada of Harirama Tarkalankara

Author: V. N. Jha

Publisher: University of Poona

Overview: Harirama Tarkalankara's Vishayatavada is a seminal Navya-Nyaya treatise that explores the relationship between knowledge and its objects (vishaya). This critical edition and translation provide the logical framework for the Nyaya-Vaisesika belief that the world is real because it is the uncontradicted content of valid cognition.

Acc. No: 102378

Call No: 181.43 JHA-V

Anton Wilhelm Amo's Philosophical Dissertations on Mind and Body

Editor: Stephen Menn and Justin E. H. Smith

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: This critical edition restores Anton Wilhelm Amo the first African philosopher in modern Europe to his rightful place as a rigorous contributor to Enlightenment metaphysics. By providing side-by-side Latin and English translations of his 1734 dissertations, Menn and Smith move beyond Amo's symbolic historical importance to analyse his unique arguments on the radical separation of mind and body. Read more.

Acc. No: 102337

Call No: 199.6 ANT-A

Black Eco-theology Through History

Author: Dianne D. Glave

Publisher: Routledge

Overview: Dianne D. Glave traces the spiritual and ecological lineage of the Black experience, from ancient African traditions to modern liberation theology. By synthesizing scripture with the narratives of figures like Nat Turner and Wangari Maathai, the book reveals a unique Eco-theology that centers environmental justice as a core tenet of Black faith. Read more.

Acc. No: 102375

Call No: 261.88 GLA-B

Jinasena's Adipurana (2 Vols.): Sanskrit Text with English Translation and Notes

Author: Jinasena, Shantilal Nagar

Publisher: Dag

Overview: Jinasena's 9th-century masterpiece provides the definitive hagiography of Lord Rishabhadeva, the first Tirthankara, while functioning as a foundational code of conduct for Jain society. This two-volume translation by Shantilal Nagar bridges the gap between Sanskrit epic poetry and ancient history, detailing the genesis of humans and the legendary lives of Bharata and Bahubali.

Acc. No: 102381

Call No: 294.4 JIN-A

Anthropology and AI

Editor: Lora Koycheva, Angela K. VandenBroek, Matt Artz

Publisher: Routledge

Overview: This curated volume explores the intersection of artificial intelligence and human society through twelve diverse anthropological and STS perspectives. From machine listening to the philosophy of AI engineers, it provides a critical social scientific framework for understanding how emerging technologies are reshaping the very definition of humanity.

Acc. No: 102304

Call No: 301.2006 ANT-A

Theory and Credibility: Integrating Theoretical and Empirical Social Science

Author: Scott Ashworth, Christopher R. Berry and Ethan Bueno de Mesquita

Publisher: Princeton University Press

Overview: This authoritative book covers the conceptual foundations and practicalities of both model building and research design, providing a new framework to link theory and empirics. Drawing on diverse examples from political science, it presents a typology of the rich set of interactions that are possible between theory and empirics. Read more.

Acc. No: 102403

Call No: 300.72 ASH-T

The Burnout Society

Author: Byung-Chul Han

Publisher: Stanford Briefs

Overview: Byung-Chul Han argues that late-modern society has transitioned from a disciplinary world of should to an achievement-oriented world of can, leading to a self-exploiting burnout. This shift toward excessive positivity and constant neural connection creates a Burnout Society characterized by depression, ADHD, and a profound inability to experience the transformative power of negativity.

Acc. No: 102361

Call No: 302.1 HAN-B

Another Cosmopolitanism

Author: Seyla Benhabib

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Seyla Benhabib explores the modern tension between the sovereignty of democratic states and the rising global order of cosmopolitan justice. Through a disaggregated model of citizenship, she argues that universal human rights and national self-determination can be reconciled via continuous "democratic iterations" and the renegotiation of traditional borders. Read more.

Acc. No: 102334

Call No: 306.01 BEN-A

Violence Studies

Author: Kalpana Kannabiran

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Part of the Oxford India Paperbacks (OIP) series, Violence Studies provides a comprehensive investigation of the systemic and structural nature of violence in India. Moving beyond isolated episodes, this multidisciplinary volume analyses how violence is embedded in the normal functioning of law, family, caste, labour, and the state.

Acc. No: 102493

Call No: 303.6 VIO-V

Minority Studies

Author: Rowena Robinson

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Rowena Robinson's Minority Studies is a critical investigation into the legal, institutional, and social mechanisms that define "minority" status in India. The volume deconstructs religious identity to show how it intersects and often conflicts with caste, gender, and tribal loyalties, revealing a complex politics of identity driven by the struggle for rights.

Acc. No: 102494

Call No: 305.8 MIN-M

No Limits: Media Studies From India

Author: Ravi Sundaram

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: A seminal collection on the media modernity of post-globalization India, No Limits maps how media from colonial print to the digital Internet has become a core category of the Indian experience. By bridging the blur between private desires and public dream worlds, it provides a multidisciplinary prism for understanding how a mediatized society accesses the global stage. Read more.

Acc. No: 102495

Call No: 302.230954 NOL-N

Studies in Religion and the Everyday

Author: Farhana Ibrahim

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Farhana Ibrahim's Studies in Religion and the Everyday moves beyond the traditional lenses of identity and conflict to explore how faith is co-produced within the mundane textures of Indian life. By historicizing the religious as a fluid category, the volume analyses its interplay with the city, capital, and the state in the post-1990s era. Read more.

Acc. No: 102496

Call No: 306.6 STU-S

Family Studies

Author: Anuja Agrawal

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Anuja Agrawal's Family Studies redefines the Indian family as a dynamic intersection of private intimacy and powerful public structures. Moving beyond the tradition vs. modernity binary, this volume explores how families are reshaped by legislative imperatives, reproductive technologies, and the persistent need for survival in a globalized economy. Read more.

Acc. No: 102497

Call No: 306.85 FAM-F

Network Culture: Politics For the Information Age

Author: Tiziana Terranova

Publisher: Pluto Press

Overview: The book investigates the shifting landscape of power in the age of information saturation and self-organizing systems. Moving beyond traditional ideology, it explores how nonlinear network dynamics from weblogs to satellite TV enable the invention of micropolitical tactics capable of resisting modern forms of social control.

Acc. No: 102439

Call No: 303.4833 TER-N

Who Paid the Pipers of Western Marxism?

Author: Gabriel Rockhill

Publisher: Monthly Review Press

Overview: Gabriel Rockhill's Who Paid the Pipers of Western Marxism? is a provocative archival exposé that reclaims dialectical materialism from the compatible left. By situating the Frankfurt School within the context of Imperialist propaganda and CIA-backed intellectual warfare, Rockhill argues that Western Marxism was groomed as a sterilized substitute for genuine revolutionary socialism.

Acc. No: 102489

Call No: 301.01 ROC-W

Urban Vulnerability: Inequality and Resilience in Indian Cities

Author: Sanjay Jothe

Publisher: Motilal Banarsidass Publishing House

Overview: Sanjay Jothe's Urban Vulnerability is a powerful ethnographic dive into the Global South cities of Bhopal and Indore, exposing how urban spaces reproduce rural caste burdens. By framing urban vulnerability as a structural product of institutional discrimination and social hierarchy, Jothe reclaims the city as a potential democratic common built by the very people it marginalizes.

Acc. No: 102430

Call No: 307.3360954 JOT-U

The Policy Pivot: Inside India's Strategic Shift

Author: Rahul Sharma and Ajay Khanna

Publisher: Juggernaut Books

Overview: Commemorating eighteen years of the Public Affairs Forum of India (PAFI), The Policy Pivot compiles essays from India's elite voices in governance, business, and academia. It maps the nation's transition toward participatory governance and strategic corporate responsibility, offering a forward-looking blueprint for ethical engagement in a complex socio-political landscape.

Acc. No: 102313

Call No: 320.954 POL-P

India and China: Beyond the Binary of Friendship and Enmity

Author: B. R. Deepak

Publisher: Springer Nature

Overview: B.R. Deepak's India and China dissect the multifaceted relationship between the two Asian giants, arguing that the traditional friend or foe binary is obsolete in an era of globalization and trade wars. By analysing the framework Cooperation, Competition, Coordination, and Conflict Deepak explores how the U.S. influence and the Galwan crisis have reshaped the regional security architecture.

Acc. No: 102314

Call No: 327.54051 DEE-I

Rising India and China: Strategic Rivalry in the Himalayas and the Indo-Pacific, Vol 1 and 2

Author: B. R. Deepak

Publisher: Palgrave Macmillan

Overview: This first volume of a comprehensive study analyses the shift in Sino-Indian relations from the 1962 Himalayan conflict to the modern naval rivalries of the Indo-Pacific. It meticulously charts the transition from Rajiv Gandhi's 1988 rebalancing to the total collapse of confidence following the Galwan face-off and China's rapid military modernization.

Acc. No: 102315, 102316

Call No: 327.54051 DEE-R

Citizen Under Siege: Essays (2014-2025)

Author: G.N. Devy

Publisher: Westland Books

Overview: G.N. Devy's anthology of essays chronicles the systemic erosion of democratic space and the normalization of state overreach from 2014 to 2025. A literary scholar's anguished response to rising authoritarianism, the book serves as a manifesto for a fearless citizenry and the urgent reclamation of constitutional secularism and diversity.

Acc. No: 102401

Call No: 320.954 DEV-C

Social Justice in the Liberal State

Author: Bruce Ackerman

Publisher: Yale University Press

Overview: Bruce Ackerman redefines the foundations of liberal democracy through a series of rigorous neutral dialogues designed to resolve competing claims for social justice. By applying principles of rationality and consistency to modern dilemmas from genetic engineering to education he constructs a vision of a society where individual autonomy is protected without compromising the collective's equitable distribution of resources.

Acc. No: 102399

Call No: 320.51 ACK-S

Anticolonialism and Social Thought

Editor: Anaheed Al-Hardan and Julian Go

Publisher: Cambridge University Press

Overview: This scholarly anthology recovers a suppressed tradition of "dissident" social thought born from the last two centuries of global anticolonial struggle. By centring thinkers from Palestine to Brazil, the text demonstrates how anticolonial movements didn't just dismantle empires but created a vital new sociological vocabulary to challenge racism and economic exploitation. Read more.

Acc. No: 100037

Call No: 325.3201 ANT-A

Anti-Colonial Global Scholarship: Contexts, Perspectives, and Debates

Editor: Sujata Patel and Maureen A. Eger

Publisher: Bristol University Press

Overview: This global anthology deconstructs the Western-centric foundations of social science to introduce a multiplicity of anti-colonial frameworks. By rethinking European historical assumptions, Patel and Eger present a transformative methodology for analysing human societies through a lens that centers the lived experiences of the colonized.

Acc. No: 102383

Call No: 325.3201 ANT-A

The Oak and The Larch: A Forest History of Russia and its Empires: A Forest History of Russia and its Empires

Author: Sophie Pinkham

Publisher: William Collins

Overview: Sophie Pinkham presents a magisterial environmental history of Russia, tracing how its vast forests from the European oak to the Siberian larch have both fortified imperial power and fuelled indigenous resistance. By viewing the Russian state through its wilderness, this narrative uncovers the deep-rooted ecological identity that spans from the Tsars and Soviets to the modern Federation. Read more.

Acc. No: 102354

Call No: 333.750947 PIN-O

Democracy and Inequality in India: Political Economy of a Troubled Giant

Author: Atul Kohli and Kanta Murali

Publisher: Cambridge University Press

Overview: Atul Kohli and Kanta Murali argue that India's democratic strain is a direct consequence of the staggering economic inequalities fuelled by post-1990s growth. This systemic shift facilitated the decline of the Congress party and the rise of a Hindu-nationalist BJP, which the authors contend has utilized state power to reshape the nation's democratic foundations. Read more.

Acc. No: 102373

Call No: 330.954 KOH-A

The United States and South Asia from the Age of Empire to Decolonization: A History of Entanglements

Editor: Harald Fischer-Tiné and Nico Slate

Publisher: Leiden University Press

Overview: This interdisciplinary anthology reconstructs the long history of Indo-US relations, stretching from the early American Republic to the era of decolonization. By moving beyond 20th-century globalization, the contributors use case studies in trade, diplomacy, and revolutionary fervour to reveal a polyvalent encounter that predates the American Century. Read more.

Acc. No: 102356

Call No: 327 UNI-U

Cognitive Capitalism

Author: Yann Moulier-Boutang

Publisher: Polity Press

Overview: The book defines "Cognitive Capitalism" as the third great era of economic history, where value is derived from knowledge, affect, and cooperation rather than physical labor. Arguing that traditional political economy is obsolete, he calls for a New Great Transformation to address the ecological and social challenges of an intangible, globalized economy. Acc. No: 102362

Call No: 330.122 BOU-C

Hammarskjöld: A Life

Author: Roger Lipsey

Publisher: University of Michigan Press

Overview: Roger Lipsey's definitive biography unifies the two faces of Dag Hammarskjöld: the formidable UN Secretary-General and the profound mystic behind the classic journal Markings. Drawing on previously unexplored archives, Lipsey reveals how Hammarskjöld's inner spiritual life fuelled his legendary statesmanship during the Cold War's most volatile crises.

Acc. No: 102352

Call No: 341.23092 LIP-H

Slouching Towards Utopia

Author: Brad de Long

Publisher: Basic Books

Overview: It presents a grand narrative of the Long Twentieth Century (1870–2010), marked by an unprecedented explosion of technological power that finally broke the Malthusian trap of poverty. Despite this slouch toward utopia, DeLong explores why the tripling of material wealth has failed to produce a stable, equitable, or satisfied global society.

Acc. No: 102368

Call No: 330.904 DEL-S

The Elements of Power: A Story of War, Technology and the Dirtiest Supply Chain on Earth

Author: Nicolas Niarchos

Publisher: William Collins

Overview: Nicolas Niarchos's The Elements of Power exposes the "bloody human cost" of the global transition to green energy, tracing the treacherous supply chains of cobalt, lithium, and copper. By documenting child labour in the Congo and environmental degradation in Indonesia, Niarchos reveals how the scramble for battery metals is creating a new, violent world order that mirrors the oil wars of the 20th century.

Acc. No: 102565

Call No: 333.8 NIA-E

The Brussels Effect: How the European Union Rules the World

Author: Anu Bradford

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Anu Bradford challenges the narrative of European decline by detailing the Brussels Effect: the EU's unique ability to unilaterally regulate global markets. By setting high standards in areas like data privacy and environmental protection, the EU leverages its massive consumer market to compel multinational corporations to adopt European rules globally, effectively Europeanizing world commerce without coercion.

Acc. No: 102343

Call No: 341.242 BRA-B

Hiding from Humanity: Disgust, Shame, and the Law

Author: Martha C. Nussbaum

Publisher: Princeton University Press

Overview: Martha Nussbaum delivers a profound critique of the role of shame and disgust in the legal system, arguing that these emotions are magical and pathological attempts to hide from our inherent human vulnerability. She contends that because disgust and primitive shame rely on impossible aspirations for purity, they should never serve as a basis for criminalizing acts or determining punishments.

Acc. No: 102335

Call No: 340.19 NUS-H

Youth, Skills and Education: Unpacking the Politics of Psychosocial Interventions

Author: R. Maithreyi

Publisher: Routledge

Overview: The book argues that these Global North-imported programs often promote a neoliberal entrepreneurial identity that shifts the burden of structural poverty onto the individual's personality, while simultaneously highlighting the local agency that resists such agendas.

Acc. No: 102560

Call No: 370.954 MAL-Y

Environmental Justice in Postwar America: A Documentary Reader

Editor: Christopher W. Wells

Publisher: University of Washington Press

Overview: Christopher W. Wells assembles a definitive primary-source history of the American environmental justice movement, tracing its roots from postwar industrial affluence to grassroots resistance. The reader highlights the tension between mainstream conservation and the marginalized communities of colour who forced issues like toxic waste and climate justice onto the national agenda. Read more.

Acc. No: 102346

Call No: 363.700973 ENV-E

Reproductive Politics and the Making of Modern India

Author: Mytheli Sreenivas

Publisher: University of Washington Press

Overview: Mytheli Sreenivas traces India's pivotal role in global population discourse, revealing how the regulation of reproduction became a cornerstone of both colonial and postcolonial state-building. The book exposes the devastating logic that linked economic development to the control of female bodies, often demonizing marginalized women as threats to national and planetary stability. Read more.

Acc. No: 102347

Call No: 363.960954 SRE-R

The Ethics of Exile: A Political Theory of Diaspora

Author: Ashwini Vasanthakumar

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: By examining the enduring moral and political relationships exiles maintain with their homelands, it establishes a transnational theory of diaspora that recognizes refugees not as passive victims, but as active political constituents. Read more.

Acc. No: 102501

Call No: 323.65 VAS-E

The Moral Limits of the Criminal Law: Vol 2 - Offense to Others

Author: Joel Feinberg

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: It chronicles the transformation of a geographically isolated port into a merchant-pirate superpower that bankrolled empires and birthed global explorers. From introducing the Black Death to fuelling the Risorgimento, this narrative explores how Genoa's bloody and influential history shaped the medieval world and the modern Italian state.

Acc. No: 102518

Call No: 345.001 FEI-O

Equity and Access: Health Care Studies in India

Editor: Purendra Prasad and Amar Jesani

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: A defining volume for the emerging field of health care studies, Equity and Access investigates why healthcare inequities are widening in post-globalization India. By adopting a political-economy framework, it exposes how the retreat of the state and the rise of market forces have shifted the staggering burden of medical costs onto individual households. Read more.

Acc. No: 102500

Call No: 362.10954 EQU-E

Achieving Zero Hunger in India: Challenges and Policies

Editor: S. Mahendra Dev, A. Ganesh-Kumar and Vijay Laxmi Pandey

Publisher: Springer Nature

Overview: An open-access multidisciplinary powerhouse, Achieving Zero Hunger in India provides an integrated roadmap for meeting SDG 2 by 2030. By synthesizing data from agricultural economics, bio-fortification, and socio-legal frameworks, it offers a granular analysis of how gender, climate-ready crops, and social safety nets must converge to eliminate malnutrition.

Acc. No: 102431

Call No: 363.80954 ACH-A

India's Forests: Revisiting Nature and History

Editor: Arupjyoti Saikia and Mahesh Rangarajan

Publisher: Vintage

Overview: Arupjyoti Saikia and Mahesh Rangarajan's India's Forests redefines the woods as living, contested arenas where power, culture, and ecology collide. Spanning from prehistory to the present, this volume moves beyond viewing forests as passive backdrops, instead treating them as ecological lifelines shaped by the friction between colonial control and the traditional wisdom of forest communities.

Acc. No: 102418

Call No: 333.750954 IND-I

On Close Reading

Author: John Guillory

Publisher: The University of Chicago Press

Overview: John Guillory deconstructs close reading, the supposed core of modern literary study, to reveal it as a technique transmitted by imitation rather than a strictly defined method. By tracing its history back to interwar critics, Guillory argues that the practice arose not as a set of rules, but as a quest for rigorous aesthetic judgment, offering a crucial intervention in the debate over the future of the English discipline.

Acc. No: 102359

Call No: 428.4 GUI-O

Genealogies of Environmentalism: The Lost Works of Clarence Glacken

Author: Clarence Glacken

Publisher: University of Virginia Press

Overview: This posthumous collection of essays by Clarence Glacken, author of Traces on the Rhodian Shore, serves as the essential sequel to his seminal work on environmental thought. Spanning the 18th to the 20th centuries, these intellectual biographies investigate historical debates on population capacity, resource sustainability, and the global expansion of human land use. Read more.

Acc. No: 102371

Call No: 508 GLA-G

Panda Nation: The Construction and Conservation of China's Modern Icon

Author: E. Elena Songster

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: E. Elena Songster traces the sudden mid-twentieth-century rise of the giant panda from an obscure mountain dweller to a ubiquitous global icon. The book reveals how the People's Republic of China utilized government-directed science and nature protection to forge a national treasure that mirrored its own ascent in global status. Read more.

Acc. No: 102345

Call No: 599.7890951 SON-P

Strategic Intelligence for the Knowledge Economy

Author: Brian McBreen, Pawan Handa and et.al

Publisher: Emerald Publishing

Overview: This 2025 volume redefines strategic intelligence for the post-industrial era, arguing that 19th-century analytical tactics are insufficient for a knowledge economy. By centering knowledge capital assets, the authors provide an eight-factor conceptual framework to help managers navigate the dynamic, chaotic, and unique dilemmas of 21st-century markets. Read more.

Acc. No: 102367

Call No: 658.4012 MCB-S

The Emergence of Brand-Name Capitalism in Late Colonial India: Advertising and the Making of Modern Conjuality

Author: Douglas E. Haynes

Publisher: Bloomsbury Academic

Overview: The Emergence of Brand-Name Capitalism chronicles the birth of professional advertising in interwar Western India, revealing how global corporations used "modern conjuality" to sell commodities to the rising middle class. By analysing campaigns for everything from Dalda to Lifebuoy, Haynes exposes the cultural strategies and structural limitations of a consumer economy that struggled to penetrate the rural and urban poor.

Acc. No: 102322

Call No: 659.1 HAY-E

The 8 Laws of Employee Experience How to Build a Future-Ready Organization

Author: Jacob Morgan

Publisher: John Wiley and Sons

Overview: The book dismantles the perks-and-happiness myth, repositioning EX as a rigorous value exchange of growth and accountability. By synthesizing CHRO insights with futurist frameworks like STEEPLE and the Cone of Possibilities, Morgan provides a strategic operating system for building high-performance organizations in an AI-driven decade.

Acc. No: 102312

Call No: 658.314 MOR-E

IIMA-Strategies for Growth: Help Your Business Move Up the Ladder

Author: Atanu Ghosh

Publisher: Portfolio

Overview: Part of the prestigious IIMA Business Series, Atanu Ghosh's Strategies for Growth provides a practical roadmap for organizational expansion within the Indian corporate landscape. By analysing the trajectories of giants like Bharti Airtel, Amul, and Infosys, the book decodes the specific marketing and management hurdles companies face when scaling from small enterprises to global players.

Acc. No: 102552

Call No: 658.406 GHO-S

Song of the Forest: Russian Forestry and Stalinist Environmentalism, 1905–1953

Author: Stephen Brain

Publisher: University of Pittsburgh Press

Overview: Stephen Brain challenges the trope of Soviet environmental insatiability by uncovering the robust, romantic tradition of Russian forestry that persisted under Stalin. The book details the ideological battle between German-style industrial clear-cutting and the native stand type theory, which ultimately led to the creation of the world's largest forest preserves.

Acc. No: 102348

Call No: 634.90947 BRA-S

Drawing A Nation the Delhi Silpi Chakra

Author: Poonam Baid

Publisher: Dag

Overview: It a comprehensive art publication and exhibition catalogue documenting the influential post-Independence artist collective formed in 1949.

Acc. No: 100038

Call No: 720.95456 DRA-D

Kantha: Sustainable Textiles and Mindful Making

Author: Ekta Kaul

Publisher: Herbert Press

Overview: Ekta Kaul's exploration of Kantha transcends simple embroidery, framing the Bengali tradition as a foundational practice of upcycling and emotional repair. This guide blends the rich history of communal storytelling through cloth with practical instructions, inviting modern makers to embrace a slower, sustainable approach to textile art.

Acc. No: 102416

Call No: 746.44 KAU-K

Textiles from Bengal: A Shared Legacy

Editor: Sonia Ashmore, Tirthankar Roy and Niaz Zaman

Publisher: Mapin Publishing

Overview: This pioneering scholarly anthology reconstructs the history of Bengal textiles, from the legendary muslins to Baluchari silks, that once dominated global trade. By bridging the gap between historians and practitioners, it reveals how the Industrial Revolution and Partition obscured a shared legacy of craftsmanship that defined the cultural identity of both India and Bangladesh.

Acc. No: 102417

Call No: 746.0954 TEX-T

Typecasting Photographing the Peoples of India 1855-1920

Editor: Sudeshna Guha

Publisher: Dag

Overview: Through a critical examination of colonial photography from 1855 to 1920, Typecasting uncovers how the camera was used as an ethnographic tool to categorize the diverse peoples of India. This scholarly anthology analyses the intersection of aesthetics, anthropology, and domestic colonial contexts to reveal the power dynamics behind the visual construction of Indian identity.

Acc. No: 100039

Call No: 770.954 TYP-T

Essayism: On Form, Feeling, and Nonfiction

Author: Brian Dillon

Publisher: New York Review Books

Overview: It is a generic hybrid that functions as both a rigorous study of the essay form and a vulnerable memoir of melancholy. By weaving together the lifelines of legendary writers like Montaigne, Woolf, and Sontag, Dillon demonstrates the essay's unique power to navigate depression and discover the world anew through digression and "kaleidoscopic attention."

Acc. No: 102342

Call No: 808.4 DIL-E

The Other Half of the Coconut: Women Writing Self-Respect History

Author: K. Srilata

Publisher: Zubaan

Overview: This groundbreaking collection recovers the lost voices of women in Periyar's Self-Respect Movement, offering a radical critique of both Brahminical patriarchy and the internal gender dynamics of Dravidian politics. By translating primary essays and fiction from Tamil, the volume provides the essential material basis for a gendered alternative history of caste resistance.

Acc. No: 102366

Call No: 809.89287 OTH-O

Empire of the Cholas

Author: Siddharth N. Vijayaraghavan

Publisher: Rupa

Overview: Siddharth N. Vijayaraghavan's Empire of the Cholas is a sweeping historical epic centered on the 11th-century construction of the Brihadisvara Temple. Blending factual history with fictional intrigue, the novel follows the rise of an emperor, the resilience of courtly women, and the defense of the Chola heartland against a looming foreign threat.

Acc. No: 102328

Call No: 823.0954 VIJ-E

Spenser: The Faerie Queene

Editor: A. C. Hamilton

Publisher: Routledge

Overview: A.C. Hamilton's definitive edition of Edmund Spenser's 1596 epic represents the pinnacle of Elizabethan scholarship, featuring the first freshly edited text in nearly a century. This volume serves as an essential apparatus for navigating Spenser's complex allegory, supplemented by exhaustive character lists, historical chronologies, and the poet's own foundational Letter to Raleigh.

Acc. No: 102318

Call No: 821.3 SPE-S

Incompleteness: New and Selected Essays, 1999 – 2023

Author: Amit Chaudhuri

Publisher: New York Review Books

Overview: This career-spanning anthology of essays (1999–2023) captures Amit Chaudhuri's unfit for appropriation perspective on literature, music, and the shifting textures of Indian modernity. From the poetics of Joni Mitchell to the decline of Bengali cuisine, Chaudhuri argues against the streamlined narratives of globalization in favour of a profound, creative incompleteness.

Acc. No: 100036

Call No: 824.92 CHA-I

Mother Courage and Her Children

Author: Bertolt Brecht

Publisher: Bloomsbury Methuen Drama

Overview: It is a foundational masterpiece of Epic Theatre, portraying a canteen woman who attempts to profit from the Thirty Years' War while losing her three children to its violence. This Student Edition dissects Brecht's Alienation Effect, transforming the stage into a Marxist laboratory that examines the devastating intersection of capitalism and human conflict.

Acc. No: 102319

Call No: 832.912 MOT-M

The Extraordinary Voyage of Pytheas the Greek

Author: Barry Cunliffe

Publisher: Penguin Books

Overview: Archaeologist Barry Cunliffe reconstructs the 4th-century B.C.E. expedition of Pytheas of Massalia, the first Mediterranean explorer to document the British Isles and the Arctic. By blending maritime history with archaeological evidence, the narrative recovers a lost chapter of ancient Greek exploration that preceded Roman expansion by centuries.

Acc. No: 102357

Call No: 913 CUN-E

Syria: Civil War to Holy War?

Author: Charles Glass

Publisher: OR Books

Overview: Charles Glass provides a definitive account of the sudden December 2024 collapse of the Assad regime and the subsequent rise of insurgent rule. By tracing the conflict from its 2011 civil origins to its 2024 "Holy War" culmination, Glass examines the volatile intersection of sectarianism, authoritarian misrule, and foreign intervention.

Acc. No: 102358

Call No: 956.910423 GLA-S

Black Square: Adventures in Post-Soviet Ukraine

Author: Sophie Pinkham

Publisher: W.W. Norton and Company

Overview: Author's travelogue captures the dark absurdities of post-Soviet Ukraine, from the Maidan revolution to the annexation of Crimea. Through a cast of charismatic yet troubled characters doctors, hippies, and activists she traces the deep-seated cycles of corruption and Russian aggression that preceded the current European crisis.

Acc. No: 102355

Call No: 947.7086 PIN-B

The Hungry Steppe: Famine, Violence, and the Making of Soviet Kazakhstan

Author: Sarah Cameron

Publisher: Cornell University Press

Overview: Sarah Cameron's The Hungry Steppe unearths the hidden history of the 1930–33 Kazakh famine, a state-engineered disaster that claimed 1.5 million lives and forcibly ended nomadic life. The narrative reveals how this modernization project through violence paradoxically forged the boundaries and national identity of modern Kazakhstan. Read more.

Acc. No: 102372

Call No: 958.45084 CAM-H

Moshe's Children: The Orphans of the Holocaust and the Birth of Israel

Author: Sergio Luzzatto

Publisher: Indiana University Press

Overview: Sergio Luzzatto chronicles the heroic efforts of Moshe Zeiri, a Jewish carpenter and British Army volunteer who established postwar Europe's largest orphanage in Selvino, Italy. The narrative follows the rehabilitation of 700 Holocaust survivors as Zeiri transformed their stolen pasts into a future as the pioneering citizens of the nascent State of Israel.

Acc. No: 102370

Call No: 940.53 LUZ-M

Exit Stalin: The Soviet Union as a Civilization, 1953-1991

Author: Mark B. Smith

Publisher: Allen Lane

Overview: Mark B. Smith reevaluates the Soviet Union's post-Stalin era not as an inevitable failure, but as a functioning civilization that made a genuine, modernizing attempt to fulfill the egalitarian promises of the Revolution. By focusing on the day-to-day lives and sincere beliefs of its citizens, Smith explains why the USSR maintained internal legitimacy for decades despite the coercion and shortages that eventually doomed it. Read more.

Acc. No: 102353

Call No: 947.084 SMI-E

The Hidden History of Burma: Race, Capitalism, and the Crisis of Democracy in the 21st Century

Author: Thant Myint-U

Publisher: W.W. Norton and Company

Overview: The book provides a definitive analysis of Myanmar's turbulent transition, arguing that colonial-era racial hierarchies and predatory capitalism have undermined its democratic aspirations. The book examines how ethnonationalism, Chinese influence, and criminal networks converge to create a modern crisis that serves as a warning for global democracy.

Acc. No: 102349

Call No: 959.1053 MYI-H

Glorious Failure: The Forgotten History of French Imperialism in India

Author: Robert Ivermee

Publisher: Cntxt

Overview: Robert Ivermee's Glorious Failure deconstructs the 150-year saga of French imperialism in India, exposing a "doomed project" built on slavery, regime change, and opportunistic warfare. By exploding the myth of a benign French presence, Ivermee reveals how the ideals of the French Revolution were paradoxically used to justify fresh cycles of colonial domination and systemic inequality.

Acc. No: 102281

Call No: 954.03 IVE-G

We, the People of India: Decoding a Nation's Symbols

Author: T.M. Krishna

Publisher: Cntxt

Overview: In We, the People of India, T.M. Krishna conducts a lyrical and scholarly excavation of the symbols the flag, anthem, and Preamble that define the Indian Republic. By retracing the debates of the Constituent Assembly, Krishna transforms these national metaphors from static icons into living dialogues, offering a citizenly response to the modern challenges facing India's democratic identity.

Acc. No: 102282

Call No: 954.320 KRI-W

Genoa, 'La Superba': The Rise and Fall of a Merchant Pirate Superpower

Author: Nicholas Walton

Publisher: Hurst & Company

Overview: It chronicles the transformation of a geographically isolated port into a merchant-pirate superpower that bankrolled empires and birthed global explorers. From introducing the Black Death to fuelling the Risorgimento, this narrative explores how Genoa's bloody and influential history shaped the medieval world and the modern Italian state.

Acc. No: 102559

Call No: 945.1821 WAL-G

Rivers on Fire: Khalistan Struggle

Author: Jagtar Singh

Publisher: Aakar

Overview: Jagtar Singh's Rivers on Fire is a definitive, eyewitness account of the Khalistan militancy in Punjab, spanning from its 1978 origins to the mid-1990s. Drawing on four decades of journalism and direct interactions with key players, Singh shatters common myths to reveal the complex synergy between peaceful protest, armed struggle, and state repression.

Acc. No: 102517

Call No: 954.5505 SIN-R

Empire, Orient and Historical Writing: A Study of Nineteenth-Century British Scholarship on Indo-Muslim Rule

Author: Tripta Wahi

Publisher: Aakar

Overview: Provides a critical counter-perspective to Saidean Orientalism by examining the nuances of 19th-century British scholarship on India's Muslim rulers. Through a rigorous analysis of six key historians, Wahi argues that their work was not a monolithic effort to inferiorize the East, but a complex reflection of the diverse intellectual and social trends of the European milieu.

Acc. No: 102436

Call No: 954.0072 WAH-E

A Statesman and a Seeker

Author: Karan Singh

Publisher: Speaking Tiger Books

Overview: The authorized biography of Dr. Karan Singh, A Statesman and a Seeker maps the extraordinary life of the man who bridged the transition from the Dogra Monarchy to Indian Democracy. From serving as the youngest cabinet minister under Indira Gandhi to his profound journey as a Vedic scholar and spiritual seeker, this volume is an intimate study of a consensus-builder in a fractious age.

Acc. No: 102428

Call No: 954.052092 SIN-S