

Social Science

Ink, Saffron and Freedom: My 94-Year Journey of Journalism, Activism and Nation-Building

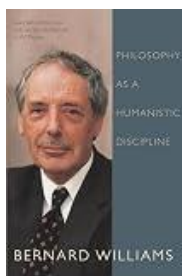

Author: Kedar Nath Gupta

Publisher: Prabhat Prakashn

Overview: Ink, Saffron and Freedom is the autobiography of 94-year-old veteran journalist and Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) swayamsevak Kedar Nath Gupta. The memoir chronicles a century of Indian political and social history through the lens of Delhi (Dilli), detailing the author's firsthand experiences of pre-independence India, Partition, the evolution of nationalist journalism, and the rise of modern India.

Acc. No: 103267

Call No: 070.92 GUP-I

Philosophy as a Humanistic Discipline

Author: Bernard Williams

Publisher: Princeton University Press

Overview: Philosophy as a Humanistic Discipline is a posthumous collection of essays by Bernard Williams (edited by A. W. Moore) that outlines his vision of philosophy as a distinct, human-centered enterprise. Rejecting scientific models, Williams argues that philosophy must stay grounded in lived human experience, history, and moral psychology rather than mimicking the methods or objective aspirations of the natural sciences. Read more.

Acc. No: 103225

Call No: 101 WIL-P

Concepts at the Interface

Author: Nicholas Shea

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Philosopher and cognitive scientist Nicholas Shea presents an empirical theory of concepts as cognitive interfaces bridging content-general reasoning with special-purpose sensory, motoric, and affective systems. The monograph demonstrates how this dual-architecture framework resolves fundamental puzzles in cognitive science, including the frame problem, metacognitive control, and conceptual inference. Read more.

Acc. No: 103261

Call No: 121.3 SHE-C

The Self: A History

Author: Patricia Kitcher

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: The Self: A History, by Patricia Kitcher, traces how the concept of the "I" and the self has been developed, deployed, and debated across the history of Western philosophy, alongside comparative perspectives from African philosophy. Drawing on metaphysics, phenomenology, and the philosophy of mind, the volume addresses foundational puzzles surrounding self-consciousness, personal identity, and the elusive nature of self-reference. Read more.

Acc. No: 103259

Call No: 126 SEL-S

Pleasure: A History

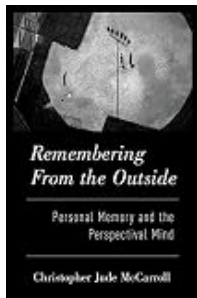

Editor: Lisa Shapiro

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Pleasure: A History is an edited volume in the Oxford Philosophical Concepts series, overseen by philosopher Lisa Shapiro. The book traces the evolving philosophical understanding of pleasure from ancient and medieval frameworks through early modern cognition to contemporary psychology, highlighting pleasure's integral role in perception, reason, and human knowledge. Read more.

Acc. No: 103260

Call No: 128.4 PLE-P

Remembering from the Outside: Personal Memory and the Perspectival Mind

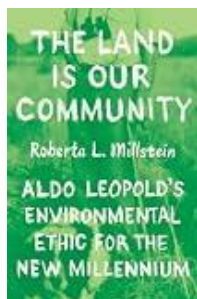

Author: Christopher McCarroll

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: A groundbreaking investigation into observer-perspective personal memories recalling past events where one visualizes oneself from an external viewpoint. Developing a dual-faceted constructive model of encoding and retrieval, McCarroll defends the authenticity of these observer memories, illuminating the fundamentally reconstructive and perspectival nature of human cognition. Read more.

Acc. No: 103262

Call No: 153.123 MCC-R

The Land Is Our Community: Aldo Leopold's Environmental Ethic for the New Millennium

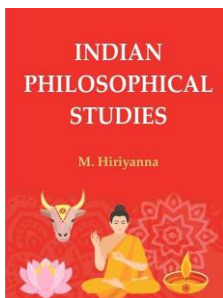

Author: Roberta L. Millstein

Publisher: University of Chicago Press

Overview: A rigorous defence and reinterpretation of Aldo Leopold's classic "land ethic." Combining history and philosophy of science with modern ecological theory, Millstein refutes common criticisms of Leopold's philosophy, offering an updated conceptual framework for environmental ethics, conservation policy, and ecological restoration in the 21st century. Read more.

Acc. No: 103264

Call No: 179.1 MIL-L

Indian Philosophical Studies

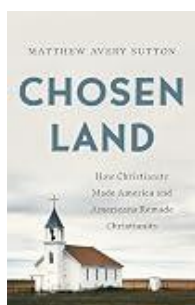

Author: M. Hiriyanna

Publisher: Gyan Publishing

Overview: Indian Philosophical Studies by the distinguished philosopher and Sanskrit scholar M. Hiriyanna is a collected volume of essays and analytical studies on the major classical systems (Darshanas) of Indian philosophy. The book examines fundamental metaphysical, epistemological, and ethical themes across Vedanta (especially Advaita), Samkhya, Yoga, Nyaya, Vaisheshika, and Mimamsa, highlighting the rigorous logic and practical spiritual value underlying India's intellectual tradition.

Acc. No: 103239

Call No: 181.408 HIR-I

Chosen Land: How Christianity Made America and Americans Remade Christianity

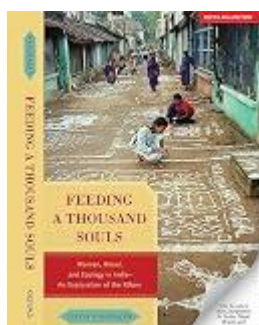

Author: Matthew Avery Sutton

Publisher: Basic Books

Overview: Chosen Land: How Christianity Made America and Americans Remade Christianity by historian Matthew Avery Sutton is a narrative synthesis examining the five-hundred-year history of American Christianity. The book explores how the constitutional absence of an established state religion fostered a competitive marketplace of faith, driving innovation that shaped major American ideological, political, and cultural movements.

Acc. No: 103293

Call No: 277.3 SUT-C

Feeding a Thousand Souls: Women, Ritual and Ecology in India: An Exploration of the Kolam

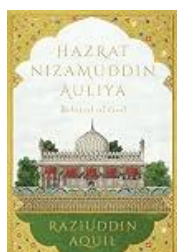

Author: Vijaya Nagarajan

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Feeding a Thousand Souls: Women, Ritual, and Ecology in India an Exploration of the Kōlam by Vijaya Nagarajan is a comprehensive study of the kōlam, a traditional daily ritual art created by Tamil women using rice flour. Blending environmental anthropology, ethnomathematics, and Hindu theology, Nagarajan explores how this ephemeral floor drawings connect female domestic space, mathematical grid symmetry, and ecological ethics.

Acc. No: 103229

Call No: 294.537 NAG-F

Hazrat Nizamuddin Auliya: Beloved of God

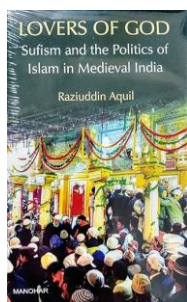

Author: Raziuddin Aquil

Publisher: Pan Macmillan

Overview: Hazrat Nizamuddin Auliya: Beloved of God by historian Raziuddin Aquil is a biographical and historical study of the revered 13th-14th century Chishti Sufi saint (1238–1325). Drawing on primary hagiographies and malfuzat (discourses), the monograph examines Nizamuddin Auliya's spiritual philosophy, his practice of universal love (sulh-i kul), musical assemblies, voluntary poverty, and his enduring legacy in the Delhi Sultanate.

Acc. No: 103237

Call No: 297.89 AQU-H

Manohar Lovers of God: Sufism and the Politics of Islam in Medieval India

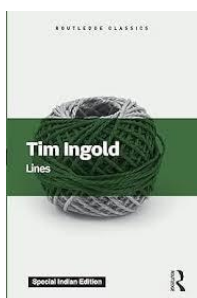

Author: Raziuddin Aquil

Publisher: Manohar

Overview: Lovers of God: Sufism and the Politics of Islam in Medieval India by historian Raziuddin Aquil examines the complex intersection of Sufi mysticism, political power, and inter-community dynamics in medieval India. Bypassing both modern secular taboos and communal distortions, the book investigates how Sufi saints navigated royal patronage, religious violence, popular veneration, and the broader expansion of Islam across South Asia.

Acc. No: 103266

Call No: 297.40954 AQU-L

Lines: A Brief History

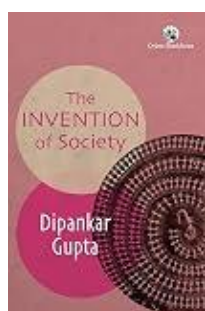

Author: Tim Ingold

Publisher: Routledge

Overview: Lines: A Brief History by social anthropologist Tim Ingold lays the foundation for an anthropological archaeology of the line, proposing that human life, movement, and cultural practices such as walking, weaving, writing, singing, and storytelling are fundamentally constituted by linear traces and threads. Ingold traces how modern history transformed fluid, organic wayfaring lines into rigid, point-to-point connections, reshaping how humans perceive space, knowledge, and existence.

Acc. No: 103228

Call No: 302.2 ING-L

The Invention of Society

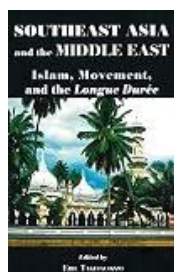

Author: Dipankar Gupta

Publisher: Orient Black Swan

Overview: The Invention of Society by Indian sociologist Dipankar Gupta presents a theoretical framework proposing that democracy fundamentally reshaped social order by shifting normative constraints from what can be done to what cannot be done. Gupta argues that this transition institutionalized through the Triad and modern citizenship frees individuals to innovate and expand choices while maintaining ethical awareness of others, creating a truly dynamic society. Read more.

Acc. No: 103230

Call No: 303.4 GUP-I

Southeast Asia and the Middle East: Islam, Movement, and the Longue Durée

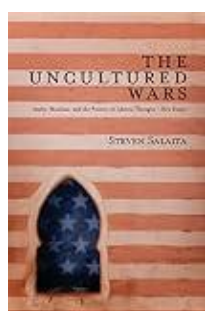

Editor: Eric Tagliacozzo

Publisher: Stanford University Press

Overview: It explores over seven centuries of political, economic, migratory, and religious connections between Southeast Asia and the Middle East. Applying Fernand Braudel's longue durée framework, the volume demonstrates how continuous cross-regional flows of people, ideas, trade, and Islamic scholarship have mutually shaped both regions and continue to influence modern transregional dynamics.

Acc. No: 103304

Call No: 303.482590 SOU-S

The Uncultured Wars: Arabs, Muslims and the Poverty of Liberal Thought

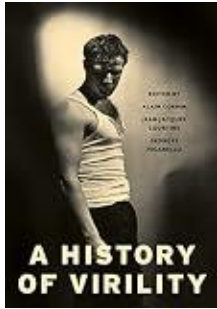

Author: Doctor Steven Salaita

Publisher: Zed Books

Overview: The Uncultured Wars: Arabs, Muslims and the Poverty of Liberal Thought by Steven Salaita is a collection of twelve essays critiquing American liberal-left discourse regarding anti-Arab racism and Islamophobia. Salaita argues that mainstream liberal intellectual culture frequently perpetuates subtle xenophobia, marginalizing Arab and Muslim voices while calling for their inclusion in core debates on U.S. domestic policy and foreign intervention.

Acc. No: 103223

Call No: 305.8927 SAL-U

A History of Virility

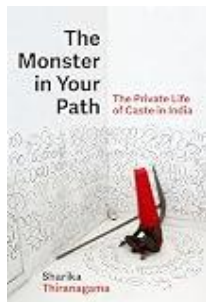

Editor: Alain Corbin, Jean-Jacques Courtine, and Georges Vigarello

Publisher: Columbia University Press

Overview: A History of Virility, edited by Alain Corbin, Jean-Jacques Courtine, and Georges Vigarello, traces the historical evolution of European masculinity from classical origins of power and male dominance to the modern era's virility on edge. Through multidisciplinary essays spanning philosophy, art, literature, and political history, the collection analyses how ideals of manhood were reinforced by institutions, challenged by social movements, and destabilized in the 20th century. Read more.

Acc. No: 103235

Call No: 305.3109 HIS-H

The Monster in Your Path: The Private Life of Caste in India

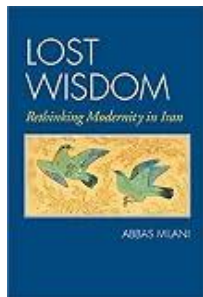

Author: Sharika Thiranagama

Publisher: University of California Press

Overview: The Monster in Your Path: The Private Life of Caste in India by anthropologist Sharika Thiranagama is an ethnographic study examining how historical caste hierarchies persist in rural Kerala despite decades of Left-led land reform and social reorganization. Focusing on Dalit women and the spatial domain of the domestic sphere, the book explores how caste subordination migrates into private spaces and homes, setting a new framework for understanding historical inequality within Left-wing political movements. Read more.

Acc. No: 103289

Call No: 305.5688 THI-M

Lost Wisdom: Rethinking Modernity in Iran

Author: Abbas Milani

Publisher: Mage Publishers

Overview: Lost Wisdom: Rethinking Modernity in Iran by Abbas Milani is a collection of cross-disciplinary essays exploring the long historical struggle between indigenous Iranian intellectual modernization and religious obscurantism. Challenging the notion that democratic ideals and rationalism are uniquely Western, Milani highlights how Iranian thinkers, writers, and artists have sought a distinct, culturally rooted path to modernity over the past millennium.

Acc. No: 103284

Call No: 306.6 MIL-L

The Coalition Effect, 2010–2015

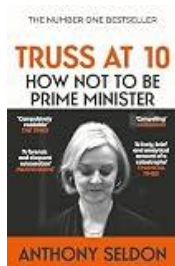

Author: Anthony Seldon and Mike Finn

Publisher: Cambridge University Press

Overview: The Coalition Effect, 2010–2015 is a comprehensive contemporary history audit edited by Anthony Seldon and Mike Finn evaluating the UK's Conservative-Liberal Democrat coalition government under David Cameron and Nick Clegg. Bringing together political scientists, commentators, and policy experts, the volume assesses the administration's impact on British constitutional norms, fiscal austerity policies, party politics, and public service reform.

Acc. No: 103275

Call No: 320.941 COA-C

Truss at 10: How Not to Be Prime Minister

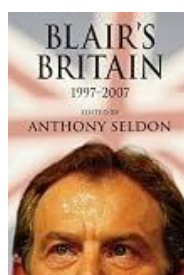

Author: Anthony Seldon

Publisher: Atlantic books

Overview: Truss at 10: How Not to Be Prime Minister by Anthony Seldon is an authoritative contemporary history of Liz Truss's 49-day administration the shortest in British history. Drawing on extensive interviews with No. 10 insiders, aides, and cabinet members, the book provides a forensic autopsy of her disastrous economic policies, the market collapse following the Mini-Budget, and the structural failures that led to her swift resignation.

Acc. No: 103269

Call No: 320.441 SEL-T

Blair's Britain, 1997-2007

Editor: Anthony Seldon

Publisher: Cambridge University Press

Overview: Blair's Britain, 1997–2007 is an authoritative scholarly assessment of Tony Blair's decade as Prime Minister of the United Kingdom, edited by political historian Anthony Seldon. Bringing together leading political scientists and commentators, the volume offers a comprehensive audit of New Labour's domestic governance, social policies, constitutional reforms, and controversial foreign policy footprint.

Acc. No: 103274

Call No: 320.941 BLA-B

The Conservative Effect, 2010–2024: 14 Wasted Years?

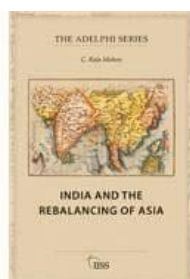

Author: Anthony Seldon and Tom Egerton

Publisher: Cambridge University Press

Overview: The Conservative Effect, 2010–2024: 14 Wasted Years? (edited by Anthony Seldon and Tom Egerton) is a comprehensive policy analysis assessing the ultimate impact of 14 consecutive years of Conservative rule in the UK. Featuring contributions from leading academic experts, the book evaluates how major shocks including austerity, Brexit, and COVID-19 shaped British economics, public services, governance, and international standing.

Acc. No: 103271

Call No: 324.24104 CON-C

India and the Rebalancing of Asia

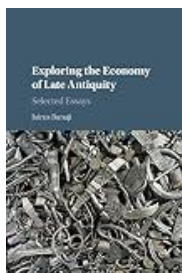

Author: C. Raja Mohan

Publisher: Speaking Tiger

Overview: It provides a strategic assessment of India's evolving role in the Indo-Pacific geopolitical order. Grounded in the long arc of Indian foreign policy from the colonial era to the present, Mohan argues that China's economic and military expansion has compelled New Delhi to abandon post-colonial ambivalence, strengthen domestic power projection, and deepen strategic alignment with the United States and regional democracies.

Acc. No: 103257

Call No: 327.095 MOH-I

Exploring the Economy of Late Antiquity: Selected Essays

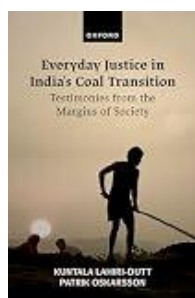

Author: Jairus Banaji

Publisher: Cambridge University Press

Overview: Jairus Banaji offers a rigorous rebuttal to prevailing minimalist economic models of the late Roman world. Building upon his seminal Agrarian Change in Late Antiquity (2001), Banaji uses multi-lingual primary sources to argue for a sophisticated, highly monetized, and expansive late antique market economy driven by gold coinage, aristocracy, and long-distance trade. Read more.

Acc. No: 103290

Call No: 330.93709 BAN-E

Everyday Justice in India's Coal Transition: Testimonies from the Margins of Society

Author: Kuntala Lahiri-Dutt and Patrik Oskarsson

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Kuntala Lahiri-Dutt and Patrik Oskarsson reimagines the concept of just transition in India's coal-dependent regions. Drawing on over two decades of ethnographic research in eastern India (specifically Jharkhand), the authors argue for an "everyday justice" framework that accounts for informal economies, precarious labour, landscape degradation, and the lived realities of marginalized rural populations. Read more.

Acc. No: 103227

Call No: 333.822083 LAH-E

Bringing the Cheetah Back to India: How Diplomacy Made Conservation's Big Mission Possible

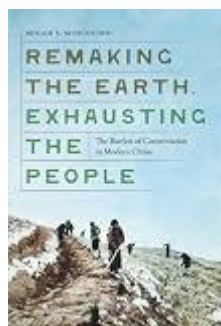

Author: Prashant Agrawal

Publisher: Hachette

Overview: Bringing the Cheetah Back to India: How Diplomacy Made Conservation's Big Mission Possible by Prashant Agrawal chronicles Project Cheetah the intercontinental rewilding initiative to reintroduce the extinct big cat to India. The book details the political leadership, high-stakes diplomatic negotiations between India, Namibia, and South Africa, and the complex logistical effort to restore India's grassland ecosystems.

Acc. No: 103238

Call No: 333.95 AGR-B

Remaking the Earth, Exhausting the People: The Burden of Conservation in Modern China

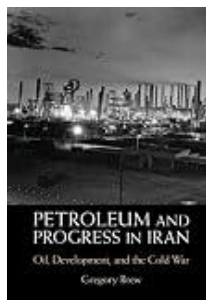

Author: Micah S. Muscolino

Publisher: University of Washington Press

Overview: The book examines how state-driven soil and water conservation projects on China's Loess Plateau from the 1940s to the 1960s reshaped the environment while imposing heavy physical and economic burdens on rural communities. Combining archival research and oral histories, Muscolino highlights the intersection of state-building, environmental change, and human labour, demonstrating that environmental policy must not compromise human dignity and equity. Read more.

Acc. No: 103303

Call No: 338.10951 MUS-R

Petroleum and Progress in Iran: Oil, Development, and the Cold War

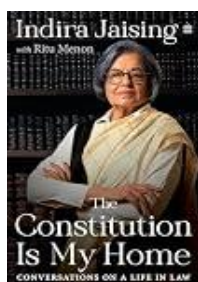

Author: Gregory Brew

Publisher: Cambridge University Press

Overview: Petroleum and Progress in Iran: Oil, Development, and the Cold War by Gregory Brew examines how Iran evolved into the world's first "petro-state" between the 1940s and 1960s. Utilizing multi-archival Iranian and American sources, the book demonstrates that Pahlavi petrolic authoritarianism was co-constructed by Mohammad Reza Shah, Pahlavi technocrats, American developmentalists, and international oil cartels against the backdrop of Cold War geopolitics.

Acc. No: 103286

Call No: 338.272809 BRE-P

The Constitution is My Home: Conversations on a Life in Law

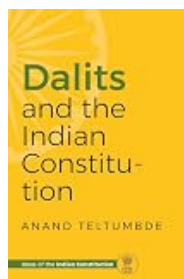

Author: Indira Jaising and Ritu Menon

Publisher: HarperCollins Publishers

Overview: The Constitution Is My Home: Conversations on a Life in Law presents a reflective dialogue between Senior Advocate Indira Jaising and feminist publisher Ritu Menon. Tracing over five decades of pioneering legal advocacy, the memoir details Jaising's landmark courtroom battles for women's rights, labour protection, human rights, and constitutional morality in India.

Acc. No: 103294

Call No: 342.5402 JAI-C

Dalits and the Indian Constitution

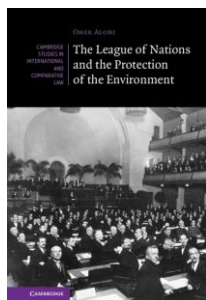

Author: Anand Teltumbde

Publisher: Speaking Tiger

Overview: Dalits and the Indian Constitution by scholar and activist Anand Teltumbde offers a critical assessment of the gap between constitutional promises and the lived realities of Dalits in India. Evaluating key provisions such as the abolition of untouchability and affirmative action (reservations), Teltumbde argues that formal legal safeguards without deep structural and economic transformations fail to achieve substantive social equality.

Acc. No: 103297

Call No: 342.54085 TEL-D

The League of Nations and the Protection of the Environment

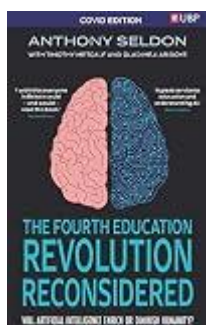

Author: Omer Aloni

Publisher: Cambridge University Press

Overview: The League of Nations and the Protection of the Environment by legal historian Omer Aloni uncovers the overlooked interwar roots of international environmental law. Through archival research, the monograph details how the League of Nations addressed early global ecological challenges including oil pollution, wildlife conservation, and resource exploitation challenging the conventional narrative that global environmental governance began only with the 1972 Stockholm Conference. Read more.

Acc. No: 103279

Call No: 344.04 ALO-L

The Fourth Education Revolution: Will Artificial Intelligence Liberate or Infantilise Humanity

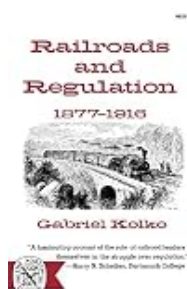

Author: Anthony Seldon and Oladimeji Abidoye

Publisher: University of Buckingham Press

Overview: The Fourth Education Revolution: Will Artificial Intelligence Liberate or Infantilise Humanity? by educator Anthony Seldon and Oladimeji Abidoye examines how artificial intelligence is transforming global education. The book critiques 20th-century mass teaching models and outlines how AI can personalize learning, bridge educational inequities, and revolutionize pedagogy while cautioning against over-reliance on technology that compromises human autonomy.

Acc. No: 103301

Call No: 378.01 SEL-F

Railroads and Regulation, 1877-1916

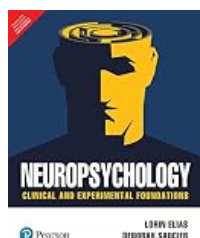

Author: Gabriel Kolko

Publisher: W.W. Norton

Overview: Gabriel Kolko book is a revisionist study of American Progressive Era economic policy, arguing that major railroad corporations actively sought and shaped federal regulation including the creation of the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) to stabilize competition and protect profits. Kolko's work challenges traditional narratives of regulation as a victory for public welfare against corporate power, introducing the influential concept of political capitalism.

Acc. No: 103249

Call No: 385.10973 KOL-R

Neuropsychology: Clinical and Experimental Foundations

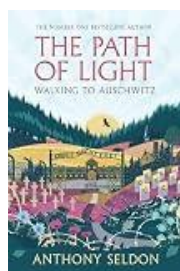

Author: Elias Lorin

Publisher: Pearson Education

Overview: Neuropsychology: Clinical and Experimental Foundations provides a comprehensive integration of clinical assessment and experimental brain research. The textbook explores the neuroanatomical, cognitive, and behavioural mechanisms underlying executive function, memory, language, perception, and neurological disorders.

Acc. No: 103256

Call No: 616.80019 ELI-N

The Path of Light: Walking to Auschwitz

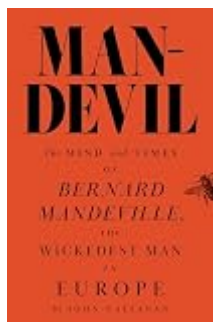

Author: Anthony Seldon

Publisher: Atlantic books

Overview: The Path of Light: Walking to Auschwitz by Anthony Seldon is a contemporary pilgrimage memoir documenting a 1,300-kilometer walk along Second World War sites from Kilometre Zero to Auschwitz. Interweaving personal reflection, historical analysis, and ethical philosophy, Seldon highlights forgotten individuals who resisted tyranny and saved lives, offering lessons on moral courage during periods of global crisis.

Acc. No: 103272

Call No: 796.51094 SEL-P

Man-Devil: The Mind and Times of Bernard Mandeville, the Wickedest Man in Europe

Author: John J. Callanan

Publisher: Princeton University Press

Overview: Man-Devil: The Mind and Times of Bernard Mandeville, the Wickedest Man in Europe by philosopher John J. Callanan is an intellectual biography analysing Bernard Mandeville's controversial 18th-century masterpiece, The Fable of the Bees. Callanan demonstrates how Mandeville's medical background in neuropsychiatry shaped his naturalistic, satirical view of human nature, arguing that his provocative claim those private vices fuel public prosperity revealed the gap between modern society's economic realities and its moral self-image.

Acc. No: 103224

Call No: 823.509 CAL-M

The Coming Storm: Power, Conflict, and Warnings from History

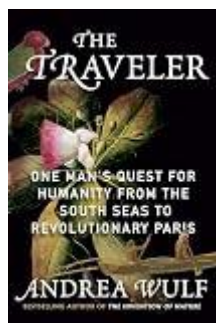

Author: Odd Arne Westad

Publisher: Henry Holt and Company

Overview: The Coming Storm: Power, Conflict, and Warnings from History by diplomatic historian Odd Arne Westad draws explicit parallels between contemporary multipolar rivalries and the geopolitical instability of the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Westad argues that the retreat from globalization, rising nationalism, trade wars, and rapid technological competition in AI and space mirror pre-WWI dynamics, warning of devastating global conflict unless historical lessons are heeded.

Acc. No: 103221

Call No: 909.83 WES-C

The Traveler: One Man's Quest for Humanity from the South Seas to Revolutionary Paris

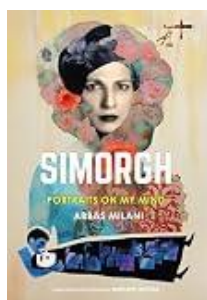

Author: Andrea Wulf

Publisher: Alfred A. Knopf

Overview: The Traveler: One Man's Quest for Humanity from the South Seas to Revolutionary Paris by Andrea Wulf is a biography of 18th-century naturalist, ethnographer, and radical thinker George Forster. Tracing his journey from Captain Cook's second Pacific voyage to his involvement in the French Revolution, the book highlights Forster's pioneering anti-imperialism, advocacy for universal human rights, and enduring belief in a shared human identity. Read more.

Acc. No: 103307

Call No: 910.92 WUL-T

Simorgh: Portraits on My Mind

Author: Abbas Milani

Publisher: Mage Publishers

Overview: Simorgh: Portraits on My Mind by historian Abbas Milani is a reflective collection of literary portraits blending biography, essay, and memoir. Drawing on the mythical Simorgh a symbol of collective self-discovery Milani profiles Iranian writers, scholars, politicians, and intimate acquaintances whose idealism, political actions, imprisoned lives, and post-1979 exilic trajectories reflect the tragedy of modern Iranian history.

Acc. No: 103318

Call No: 920.055 MIL-S

Nazi Billionaires: The Dark History of Germany's Wealthiest Dynasties

Author: David de Jong

Publisher: William Collins

Overview: Nazi Billionaires is an investigative historical narrative by journalist David de Jong detailing how major German business dynasties including the families behind BMW, Porsche, Volkswagen, and Allianz amassed vast fortunes through Aryanization, slave labour, and war profiteering during the Third Reich, while largely evading postwar accountability.

Acc. No: 103314

Call No: 940.531 JON-N

Britain under Thatcher

Author: Anthony Seldon and Daniel Collings

Publisher: Routledge

Overview: Britain under Thatcher by Anthony Seldon and Daniel Collings (part of Routledge's Seminar Studies in History series) provides a concise, structured historical evaluation of Margaret Thatcher's premiership. The book analyses key political controversies such as monetarism, industrial disputes, foreign affairs, and the poll tax combining narrative analysis with primary source documents. Read more.

Acc. No: 103273

Call No: 941.085 SEL-B

Johnson at 10: The Inside Story

Author: Anthony Seldon

Publisher: Atlantic books

Overview: It is an authoritative contemporary history of Boris Johnson's tenure as British Prime Minister from 2019 to 2022. Drawing on over 200 insider interviews, the book delivers a detailed audit of a turbulent premiership marked by the Brexit stalemate, a landslide election, the COVID-19 pandemic, war in Ukraine, and political scandals that led to his resignation.

Acc. No: 103268

Call No: 941.0861 SEL-J

The Impossible Office? The History of the British Prime Minister - Revised and Updated

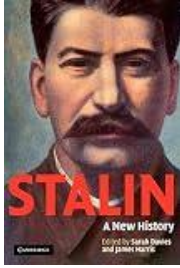

Author: Anthony Seldon

Publisher: Cambridge University Press

Overview: Anthony Seldon evaluating the evolution and endurance of the office of UK Prime Minister from Robert Walpole to the modern era. The book analyses the human, political, and constitutional factors that make the prime ministership uniquely challenging, while assessing the effectiveness of past leaders and suggesting administrative reforms for future occupants of No. 10.

Acc. No: 103270

Call No: 941.08092 SEL-I

Stalin: A New History

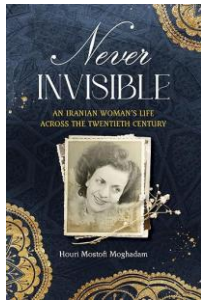

Editor: Sarah Davies and James Harris

Publisher: Cambridge University Press

Overview: Stalin: A New History (edited by Sarah Davies and James Harris) is an essay collection that re-evaluates Joseph Stalin and the Soviet state using declassified documents from the Soviet state archives. Featuring contributions from international scholars, the book re-examines Stalin's political maneuvering, economic collectivization, state terror, cultural policies, and Cold War diplomacy.

Acc. No: 103287

Call No: 947.084209 STA-S

Never Invisible: An Iranian Woman's Life Across the Twentieth Century

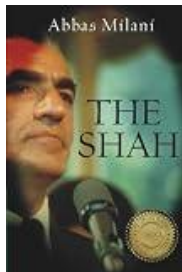

Author: Houri Mostofi Moghadam and Abbas Milani

Publisher: Mage Publishers

Overview: Never Invisible is the autobiography of Houri Mostofi Moghadam (co-authored/introduced by historian Abbas Milani), tracing her life across 20th-century Iran from her royal and scholarly ancestry through the Pahlavi modernization era, her work as an educator and Fulbright Scholar, to her post-1979 exile in France. The memoir provides a firsthand perspective on elite Iranian women's public engagement, educational pioneering, and legal resilience amidst pre- and post-revolutionary political upheaval.

Acc. No: 103316

Call No: 955.00492 MOS-N

The Shah

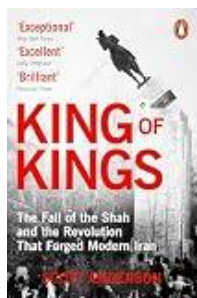

Author: Abbas Milani

Publisher: St. Martin's Griffin

Overview: The Shah by historian Abbas Milani is the definitive, archival-based biography of Mohammad-Reza Shah Pahlavi, the last monarch of Iran. Drawing on previously secret diplomatic files and personal papers, Milani portrays a deeply conflicted, modernizing yet autocratic ruler whose complex personality, sociopolitical reforms, and strategic missteps ultimately paved the way for the 1979 Islamic Revolution.

Acc. No: 103317

Call No: 955.053092 MIL-S

King of Kings: The Fall of the Shah and the Revolution That Forged Modern Iran

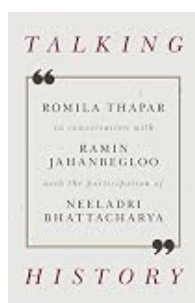

Author: Scott Anderson

Publisher: Penguin Books

Overview: King of Kings by Scott Anderson is a narrative account of the 1979 Iranian Revolution, tracing the collapse of Mohammad-Reza Shah Pahlavi's autocratic regime and the rise of Ayatollah Khomeini. Drawing comparisons to the French and Russian revolutions, Anderson analyses how economic inequality, political suppression, and secular elite disconnect sparked a populist, religiously driven upheaval that reshaped global politics.

Acc. No: 103319

Call No: 955.0530 AND-K

Talking History: Romila Thapar in conversation with Ramin Jahanbegloo

Author: Ramin Jahanbegloo and Romila Thapar,

Publisher: Oxford University Press

Overview: Talking History presents an extended dialogue between philosopher Ramin Jahanbegloo and eminent historian Romila Thapar, tracing her intellectual trajectory and methodological contributions to ancient Indian history. Across six thematic sections, the book explores the craft of historiography, the deconstruction of colonial and nationalist biases, and the vital role of the public intellectual in safeguarding democratic values against political majoritarianism. Read more.

Acc. No: 103321

Call No: 954 THA-T

Israel: What Went Wrong?

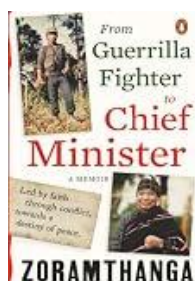

Author: Omer Bartov

Publisher: Fern Press

Overview: Israel: What Went Wrong? is a critical historical analysis by Holocaust and genocide scholar Omer Bartov detailing the ideological evolution of Zionism from a 20th-century movement of Jewish emancipation into a contemporary ethno-nationalist state system. Drawing on personal experience and scholarly expertise, Bartov examines Israel's domestic societal alignment, the erosion of post-1945 international legal norms, and the ongoing Israeli Palestinian conflict.

Acc. No: 103309

Call No: 956.94 BAR-I

From Guerrilla Fighter to Chief Minister

Author: Zoramthanga

Publisher: Penguin Eight

Overview: From Guerrilla Fighter to Chief Minister is the political autobiography of Zoramthanga, former Chief Minister of Mizoram and former underground leader of the Mizo National Front (MNF). The memoir details his decades as an insurgent during the Mizo National Famine and insurgency, his role in negotiating the historic 1986 Mizoram Peace Accord, and his subsequent transition into democratic governance and state leadership.

Acc. No: 103302

Call No: 954.164 ZOR-F